A Housing project could see London homes built in only 11 days and offered at discounted market rates to help first-time buyers onto the property ladder.

The homes, designed by Rational House, fit into tight city spaces and are made of panels that fit together.

Hammersmith & Fulham council is considering building 12 of the houses at Spring Vale Estate in Brook Green, after a three-bedroom model was tried out in Hammersmith last year. If successful, up to 100 could be built.

Andrew Johnson, cabinet member for housing, said the
